MODERN M

Mid-Century | Box Modern

Modern design encompasses five key architectural styles. Mid-century Modern, Box Modern, Natural Contemporary and Mixed-Material. Clean lines, clever use of materials, geometric shapes, open floor plans, large glass windows, and flat roofs.

- Clean lines
- Large glass windows
- Open floor plans
- Clever mix of materials

SCANDI S

Minimalist | Urban Luxe

The Scandi style is the hot trend of the moment. Inspired by the country-style Gustavian interiors from Sweden, the Scandinavian Modernist Minimalist movement or the Danish passion for Hygge, we can't seem to get enough of it.

- Light & bright
- Clean design
- White colours & natural timbers
- Comfy & cosy

STYLE GUIDE

HAMPTONS H

Elegant | Coastal | Seaside Retreat

This style mixes elements of coastal, country and modern design seamlessly. The key is light colours such as white, off white and light grey, horizontal cladding, a large verandah, a traditional or modern front door and plenty of greenery in the gardens.

- Inspired by holiday homes
- Contrasting Lines
- Pastel colours
- Light & breezy

INDUSTRIAL I

New York Inspired | Contemporary

The industrial look, once reserved for a super cool New York-style loft or warehouse conversion, is now becoming increasingly popular in contemporary home design. Makes use of rustic and recycled materials that focus on textures.

- Exposed structures & straight lines
- Metal & brickwork
- Raw & neutral
- Clever storage solutions

CLASSIC C

Traditional | Provincial

This style mixes traditional elements from the home's past with modern design. Typical Traditional and Provincial architecture comes from the 18th and 19th centuries and includes Federation, Colonial, Victorian & Edwardian styles.

- Timeless
- Decorative & substantial
- Rich with character
- Structured & balanced
